

Olight i5T EOS Lights – Blue Stripe?

The Olight i5T light came in two black versions:

There is a bit of confusion which is what and from when. And the correct answer is the opposite of what would make more sense.

The original i5T Eos was the one on the left, with blue stripes and black clip. At the time the blue didn't have any significance. They were not a limited edition, but they did sell all the pieces made.

Then COVID-19 came along. Olight offered a special addition without the blue stripes and a blue clip. We would all have to pre-order it and they would deliver in a few weeks. And the proceeds would be given to the COVID-19 effort. They were ordered and everyone got theirs. This, like the blue-strip model, didn't have "limited edition" on the box.

After they were all delivered, this became the standard model and was still for sale at their website.
