Olight M20 Crimson

Like all Olight lights, the Olight M20 Crimson is tough and versatile. Its simple user interface combined with its tough exterior and top of the line LEDs, makes Olight among the top flashlight manufacturers. Olight flashlights are trusted by the most extreme users, including soldiers, police officers, security, and rescue teams.

The Olight M20 Crimson has an XPE R2 Red LED made to enhance night vision. The red light provides great contrast and is not visible to the human eye over long distances. Red light also works well with night vision scopes and goggles. Photographers use red colored light when doing night-time photography, and red light is also helpful in night-time map reading. Red light cuts through smoke better than white light, and it is used by police and military units in night operations because it will not interfere with night vision technology.
